

Wander Walk

Hey
We've got the time to rove
The slammer can wait until the hollow lungs

Well I've been wandering around lost in my daydreams, on my way This time I've got to settle down and from your brick castle you said You said « Oh show what you've got this world's not only just loe you know You'll learn to break some hearts you'll learn to spit on your treasures faces

But I keep walking on my way wearing my seven league boots On pretty disasters I swayed hailed happy ghosts stuck on their roots Oh man I don't feel like saying goodbye to the sky My eyes are open wide even sized like the moon by night

And i've been walking on the street greeting my weeping bottlenecks I'm stomping my feet on the ground
'till I become a total wreck
And you say « Watch yourself girl You're wasting time lying on that grass » Oh boy you know what you've got to Well I know what i want to, thank you !

You'll love it when you go I know it inside my heart you will

And I've been wandering around wandering in the alley of whys I'm breaking away from the ground as I meet all the cursed eyes Well I breathe and feel the air oh no you can't compare and if they're billionaires Well I dare them to care about us

And we got so much to say So little to lose We're only dust in the air so let's roam again on the Wander Walk
